Why Safer Business Network?

As a non-profit organisation, every pound generated through Safer Business Network is reinvested directly into safer business communities.

By working with us, you help fund initiatives that deliver meaningful, lasting improvements to the local environment and drive positive change where it is needed most.

The Problem

Unmanaged risk is eroding profit, productivity, and colleague confidence. Organised and repeat offending is no longer a store-level issue; it requires an intelligence-led partnership response.

Safer Business Network delivers that response, reducing risk and cost through coordinated, multi-agency intelligence, expert support, and community-led initiatives.

Who is the Service For?

The Safer Business Network Intelligence Service supports organisations managing risk and security across public-facing environments, including:

- ✔ Retailers & multi-site operators
- ✔ Hospitality & leisure venues
- ✔ Security providers delivering retail, BID, or contract security services
- ✔ Security Operations Centres (SOCs) & control rooms

What is the Service?

Our service securely combines member intelligence with partner data to identify prolific offenders, emerging risks, and patterns of harm, enabling coordinated, intelligence-led action.

- ✔ Intelligence led prevention
- ✔ Data driven decision making
- ✔ Joint police & business action
- ✔ Safer colleagues & locations
- ✔ Measurable return on investment

Our Partners

Our formal police partnerships, OPAL information-sharing agreements, and national intelligence networks provide real-time visibility of organised and repeat offending across the UK.

- ✔ Police & OPAL information-sharing
- ✔ National BCRP network
- ✔ Home Office, MOPAC & council links
- ✔ Multi-agency investigations
- ✔ Business & community collaboration

Intelligence Roadmap

We combine your data with intelligence from other retailers to identify prolific and organised offenders. This roadmap shows how intelligence is managed, developed and used to support enforcement and prevention activity.

FAQs

How do we share our data with Safer Business Network?

We offer secure, user-friendly methods to submit incident data through our online intel system. We'll work with your team to ensure a simple and compliant process tailored to your needs.

What kind of data should we be sharing?

Businesses are encouraged to share relevant incident reports, details of prolific offenders, suspected organised crime group activity, and intelligence relating to organised retail crime. The quality and completeness of data directly influence the accuracy, relevance, and effectiveness of the outcomes we deliver.

Is our data kept confidential?

Yes. All data is handled securely and in compliance with GDPR and relevant data protection requirements. Information is shared only where appropriate and in accordance with agreed information-sharing arrangements. Further information is available at: www.saferbusiness.org.uk/data-protection-and-gdpr

Can we still benefit if we only have a few stores or low-level incidents?

Absolutely. Our service is scalable and supports businesses of all sizes. Even small amounts of intelligence can be critical when combined with regional or national trends.

Are your services used by the police or other agencies?

Yes. The police are our primary partner, and we regularly share intelligence to support investigations, prosecutions, and enforcement activity, including arrests and Criminal Behaviour Orders.

What do we get back from the service?

You'll receive regular intelligence reports, offender profiles, crime trend analysis, and tailored briefings. Our service is designed to support police and turn your data into actionable insights that help protect your business and staff.
